Hey Guys! I am Prabhkeerat Singh! Plz read my book.

DIARY OF A FLAT KID

Once upon a time, a man named Sehaj lived in a City named Gurdaspur, Punjab. He lived with his parents and his younger sister, Sidak. One night while he was sleeping, something strange happened. A big bulletin board that was hanging on the wall fell on him. But, instead of getting seriously hurt, sehaj became..... flat. Yes, completely flat, just like a sheet of paper. At first everyone in his family was shocked. But soon he and his family got used to it. He did amazing things like sliding through the doors, fit into narrow spaces, and even travel in an envelope like a letter. He was sent by mail to visit his friend in United Arab Emirates (UAE). He also became a hero. He helped the police catch two art thieves by pretending to be a painting in his uncles art museam. He became a hero but all kids say him..... Slim kid. He didn’t like that. In the last, when he wanted to be normal again, I found a way to help him. By blowing air into him with an air pump. He became normal. He tld me his adventure when i came to his home. HAPPY ENDING!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
